

SURFING WORLDWIDE

PRESS RELEASE
HAMBURG, 01 AUGUST 2017

Get Wet Soon and Marmota Maps are excited to present two new products for the world of surfing. We created „Surfing Worldwide“ an infographic and a world map displaying over 696 surf spots in more than 108 different regions around the globe.

The infographic offers a novelty for the planning of your surf trip. You can easily make out the best surfing regions for a visit in a particular month and vice versa find out which months are the best for a visit in your favorite region.

We also highlighted good and the best months for a good surf for every region on our world map. For each region we listed the most popular surf spots - along with information about tides, wave size, direction and types, swell direction and wind direction.

All data on the infographic and map has been taken from Low Pressure's Stormrider Guide - the reference for surfing data.

Since 1st June you can order both the infographic and the world map on kickstarter.

Now, the infographic and the world map are finally available via www.marmotamaps.com and selected shops.

Thomas, a copywriter and passionate surfer who is into photography and yoga shares his passion and experiences on his blogzine www.getwetsoon.de.

Graphic designer Lana and Stefan, a journalist, met in Hamburg and founded Marmota Maps, a company devoted to design, maps, geography - and mountains. In November 2015 they published the first transnational map of the whole Alpine region displaying all the ski resorts.

The infographic and map Surfing Worldwide lead all three into new territory.
